

Bishop Driscoll to host Oct. 3

Disability Sunday

BOISE — Bishop Michael Driscoll will host people with disabilities and their families for "Disabilities Sunday" Oct. 3 at St. Mark's Catholic Church, Boise, starting with Mass at 2 p.m.

This first annual gathering of people with disabilities is sponsored by Catholic Charities of Idaho. Bishop Driscoll serves as president of that agency.

The purpose of Disabilities Sunday is to: Celebrate the lives of people with special needs; Provide an opportunity for disabled people and their family members to talk with Bishop Driscoll about unmet needs and how Catholic Charities might be able to respond to them, and to help individuals and families with special needs connect to their parish communities.

A reception is planned after the Mass when listening sessions are complete. Child care will be available, if needed.

All are invited to attend the Disabilities Sunday Mass. Respond to Kristan Schlichte at Catholic Charities of Idaho, 345-6031, ext. 112 or e-mail: kschlichte@ccidaho.org.
