Nominations for Hoff Award now being accepted

Friday, May 2008

BOISE — Nominations are now being accepted for Catholic Charities of Idaho's Marie D. Hoff Social Justice Achievement Award. The award recognizes "an individual, group, or organization (Catholic or non-Catholic), that passionately seeks to call forth and engage people in transforming social structures that perpetuate injustice and poverty which, in turn, threaten family life and community well-being," according to a Catholic Charities press release.

Nomination forms are available at the Catholic Charities Web site, www.cciddaho.org, or by request at info@cciddaho.org.

The winner will be honored at the annual Loaves and Fishes dinner in Boise in September, and will also be asked to select a charity to receive a modest donation in his or her name.

Deadline for nominations is June 10 and can be submitted by e-mail at the above address, by fax, 345-5674, or through regular post to Catholic Charities of Idaho, Marie Hoff Award, 1501 S. Federal Way, Boise, Idaho, 83705. For more information, call Catholic Charities' Parish Social Ministry Coordinator Marcie Wilske, 350-7486, or e-mail her at mwilske@ccidaho.org.
